Aims

Our SEND policy and information report aims to:

- Set out how our school will support and make provision for students with special educational needs and disabilities (SEND)
- Explain the roles and responsibilities of everyone involved in providing for students with SEND

Thornden can provide support to students with a range of needs in the areas of communication and interaction; cognition and learning; social, emotional and mental health; sensory and/or physical needs. We consider all types of need on a case-by-case basis. We aim to enable all students to experience all that the school has to offer, including a broad and balanced curriculum, trips and extra-curricular activities. We aim:

- To identify students with Special Educational Needs and Disabilities (SEND)
- To liaise with parents/carers, outside agencies and associated professionals to plan and agree appropriate support
- To make sure that the school is inclusive and that SEND students are fully integrated into both curricular and extra-curricular activities
- To enable all SEND students to achieve their academic and personal potential
- To work collaboratively with teaching staff, Middle Leaders and Senior Leaders to make sure that any barriers to learning are removed and appropriate support is given
- To create a safe, supportive learning environment that helps students to improve confidence, self-esteem and independence
- To promote effective partnership with and involve outside agencies when appropriate
- To work closely during transition to share detailed information about children with SEND and to help students with SEND to make a successful transition into young adulthood
- To make sure the views of the students and their parents/carers are taken into consideration
- To evaluate annually the effectiveness of the Special Educational Needs (SEND) provision within the school

Legislation and guidance

This policy and information report is based on the statutory Special Educational Needs and Disability \(SEND\) Code of Practice and the following legislation:

- Part 3 of the Children and Families Act 2014, which sets out schools' responsibilities for students with SEND and disabilities
- The Special Educational Needs and Disability Regulations 2014, which set out schools' responsibilities for education, health and care (EHC) plans, SEND co-ordinators (SENCOs) and the SEND information report

Policy also complies with our funding agreement and articles of association.

Definitions

They have a learning difficulty or disability if they have:

- A significantly greater difficulty in learning than the majority of others of the same age, or
- A disability which prevents or hinders them from making use of facilities of a kind generally provided for others of the same age in mainstream schools

SEND information report

5.1 The areas of SEND that are provided for

Our school currently provides additional and/or different provision for a range of needs, including:

- Communication and interaction, for example, autistic spectrum disorder, Asperger's Syndrome, speech and language difficulties
- Cognition and learning, for example, dyslexia, dyspraxia,
- Social, emotional and mental health difficulties, for example, attention deficit hyperactivity disorder (ADHD)
- Sensory and/or physical needs, for example, visual impairments, hearing impairments, processing difficulties, epilepsy
- Moderate learning difficulties

5.2 Identifying students with SEND and assessing their needs

We maintain a register of SEND students. There are 2 categories: those students with an EHC plan and the remaining students who are listed under SEND Support. SEND support students are identified using Local Authority criteria and will have needs in one or more of the following areas: communication and interaction; cognition and learning; social, emotional and mental health; sensory and/or physical needs.

Students with additional needs are identified through one or more of the following:

- Liaison with Primary Schools
- Liaison with external agencies
- Liaison with parents
- Testing and assessment
- Close monitoring and observation
- Perceptions of the student's performance, progress and behaviour
- Subject teacher feedback

Student needs are addressed in class by teachers using the Student and Information Profiles to tailor teaching to address the identified needs.

The SENCo liaises with the Head of School, and senior leaders to ensure comments on supporting underperforming SEND students are appended to information sent out following data drops/reviews.

Reviews of the SEND register are carried out at a strategic point in the year. If students are accessing the curriculum without the need for support that is different from or additional to that of their peers, and/or have standardised scores in excess of those set by the Local Authority, their name will be removed from the list. At this point, they will be placed on the Watch register so that their needs can continue to be monitored. The majority of students on the Watch register have an Information Profile providing details of need and approaches to classroom support.

5.3 Consulting and involving students and parents/carers

Liaison with parents/carers usually begins at transition from Year 6 to 7, but this can come at the point of identification of issues. This will be carried out via email, phone calls and meetings. Parents/carers and students are involved in the writing of Profile documents to promote accurate, timely information to inform school support. Communication is maintained as appropriate across the five years of secondary school to ensure:

- A good understanding of the student's areas of strength and difficulty
- Parents/carers knowledge and concerns are understood
- Clear and agreed approaches are decided
- The next steps are clear

5.4 Assessing and reviewing students' progress towards outcomes

We will follow the graduated approach and the four-part cycle of assess, plan, do, review.

Students' progress and potential challenges are reviewed through one or more of the following:

- Data drops
- Teacher reports for reviews
- Observations (teacher and/or LSA)
- Department reviews
- Department-level assessment
- Screening tests
- Assessment results and tracking
- Other school reporting

All teachers and support staff who work with the student will be made aware of their needs, the outcomes sought, the support provided, and any teaching strategies or approaches that are required. We will regularly review the effectiveness of the support and interventions and their impact on the student's progress.

5.5 Supporting students moving between phases and preparing for adulthood

We will share information with the school, college, or other setting the student is moving to. We will agree with parents and students which information will be shared as part of this. Further support:

- Careers interview (supported by parent/career as necessary)
- College visits (group and individual)
- Annual Review meetings to include college representative
- Support for completion of college applications
- Additional meetings regarding options or transition
- Liaison with pastoral staff at the next setting

5.6 Our approach to teaching students with SEND

Teachers are responsible and accountable for the progress and development of all the students in their class. The Study Skills department provides support and training, observation and advice to help teachers to develop their pedagogical skills around delivering to SEND learners. Our focus is on enabling staff to feel confident, to ensure they have the range of approaches required to meet the needs of individuals. The principles of Plan, Do, Review underpin the interactions between teaching staff and the Study Skills department.

Joint discussions and planning and evaluation of impact is carried out ahead of any further intervention in the majority of cases. Where pupils have been identified as having a substantial and sustained need at primary or upon entering secondary, some targeted intervention might be put in place ahead of teacher identification of need. Importantly, though, staff have a responsibility to identify previously unrecognised need and take timely steps to meet this in liaison with the Study Skills Department. This process should continue across the 5 years of secondary school as students can have coping strategies that help them mask need so that it becomes apparent at a later age/stage. All teaching staff have a duty to report observed challenges that are not already on record.

High quality teaching is our first step in responding to students who have SEND. This will be scaffolded for individual students.

Further teaching support includes:

- Detailed Profile documents
- Small group support for literacy (Pupil Premium SEND)
- Study Skills English and Maths lessons in place of MFL
- Nurture Group
- 1:1 or small group additional support, sometimes directed by external professionals
- Upper school Study Skills lessons

5.7 Adaptations to the curriculum and learning environment

We make the following adaptations to ensure all students' needs are met:

- Curriculum planning to ensure all students are able to access, be engaged and progress
- Long, medium and short-term planning includes consideration of promoting engagement
- Funding for resources to support in class e.g. coloured paper, enlarged printouts
- Scaffolded delivery by teaching staff, supported by LSA/CSAs where appropriate
- Careful grouping to reduce barriers to learning
- Enhanced teacher: student ratio in key subjects
- Careful, planned seating in lessons to support vulnerable learners
- Detailed Profile documents contain personalised teaching approaches
- Additional support strategies such as time out cards, safe spaces, access to the Complex Behaviour Lead

5.8 Additional support for learning

We have full and part-time Learning Support Assistants and Curriculum Support Assistants who deliver SEND interventions and some small group teaching.

Learning Support Assistants will support students on a 1:1 basis outside of the classroom where this is required to deliver dedicated individual work e.g. OT or Speech and Language

We work with the following agencies to provide support for students with SEND:

- Child and Adolescent Mental Health Services

- Education Welfare
- County Educational Psychology Service
- Ethnic Minority and Traveller Service
- Health services
- Locality Team
- Occupational Therapy
- Social Services
- Specialist Teaching Advisers
- Speech and Language Therapists

5.9 Expertise and training of staff

Having core staff be current practitioners is an important principle for the school. Thus, the Learning Support Coordinators each have 50/50 timetables split between delivery or support and administration. The SENCOs are English/Rs teachers and have 50% of the school week available for delivery of SEND in school.

The Administrative Assistant works for 25 hours per week in the Study Skills Workroom which means she is fully involved in the day-to-day running of the department.

All LSAs develop an area of special interest/expertise and complete appropriate training in areas such as dyslexia, Speech and Language, autism etc

The LSAs attend training that is delivered to teaching staff in the school at Inset each year, including work around teaching and learning, behaviour management and assessment.

The SENCO and department staff provide ongoing training on a range of SEND needs and support, where appropriate, through Teaching and Learning Tuesday, Leadership meetings, Staff meetings, NQT/RQT/new staff sessions.

5.10 Securing equipment and facilities

The Learning Support Coordinator, Administrative Assistant and SEND Exams Coordinator acquire appropriate equipment for SEND pupils by coordinating with outside agencies and internal procurement.

5.11 Evaluating the effectiveness of SEND provision

We evaluate the effectiveness of provision for students with SEND by:

- Review of department assessment data
- Reviewing the impact of interventions at the end of the academic year
- Using student feedback
- Monitoring by the SENCO
- Using a costed provision map to support judgements
- Holding annual reviews for students with EHC plans
- Observations by SLT and SEND staff

5.12 Enabling students with SEND to engage in activities available to those in the school who do not have SEND

All of our extra-curricular activities and school visits are available to all our students, including our before-and after-school clubs.

All students are encouraged to take opportunities for appropriate trips in this country and abroad and are supported to engage (including staff attending such trips)

All students are encouraged to take part in sports day/school plays/special workshops, etc.

No student is ever excluded from taking part in safe activities because of their SEND or disability.

While we are not able to support students who use a wheelchair, we can provide appropriate education for many students who have visual, hearing and physical disabilities, as well as cognitive impairment. This is achieved by procuring appropriate equipment and facilities, ensuring appropriate staff training and liaising with outside agency expertise, including at County Level.

See Accessibility Plan

5.13 Support for improving emotional and social development

We provide support for students to improve their emotional and social development through:

- The Nurture Group

- Mentoring
- Forest Schools Initiative

We have a zero-tolerance approach to bullying.

5.14 Working with other agencies

Work with outside agencies is driven the needs of the cohort. Multiple agencies may be involved with individual students

5.15 Complaints about SEND provision

Complaints about SEND provision in our school should be made to the class teacher in the first instance. Should there be further issues, either the SENCo or the Head of Year should be contacted.

The parents of students with disabilities have the right to make disability discrimination claims to the first-tier SEND tribunal if they believe that our school has discriminated against their children. They can make a claim about alleged discrimination regarding:

- Exclusions
- Provision of education and associated services
- Making reasonable adjustments, including the provision of auxiliary aids and services
